

Promoting opportunities in Agriculture

Creating pathways to college . . .

REYAP

REYAP is an Oklahoma-based youth agriculture organization that recruits, trains and develops 7th to 12th grade culturally diverse students for college and careers, specifically in agriculture.

REYAP Agriculture Science and Technology Institute...

June 21-24, 2011

On the Oklahoma State University Stillwater Campus

The focus is for students to acquire theory and interactive experience relating to cutting-edge technological innovations, as well as provide greater understanding of education and career opportunities in agriculture.

HIGHLIGHTS...

Natural Resource Management • Food Science • Animal Science • Entomology • Bio-systems and Agriculture Engineering • Bio-Energy and more...

Participants must be 9th-12 graders only*

REGISTRATION MUST BE RECEIVED BY JUNE 17, 2011

OSU Institutional Diversity and Oklahoma Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) partners to sponsor the 6th Annual REYAP Agriculture Science and Technology Institute.